Respected Sir/Ma'am,

This is Sumeet Raju Pujari from India. I wanted to pursue a Master's Degree in International Management Program at The Dresden University of Applied Science. Here is my academic background, interest & future prospects for your kind reference.

My bachelor's degree has provided me with a strong foundation in the areas of Commerce, Banking, and Insurance, which have always been my fascinating areas and wanted to make my career in these fields only but I also realized that I also need knowledge, skills, and mindset needed to thrive in a globalized business environment as it is important to be more competitive in this modern and interconnect world. Understanding global markets and international business dynamics is crucial for professionals in commerce, banking, and insurance. To be an expert in these areas, I decided to go further with my study by pursuing a master's in International Management.

I completed all my previous education with the medium of instruction English and also, I applied my master's in the same language. To be more proficient in this language, I went through the IDP IELTS test (CEFR Level C1). Additionally, I am proficient in Kannada language as it is my first language.

Currently, I am a student of Bachelor of Commerce in Banking & Insurance at Sanpada College of Commerce and Technology. Additionally, I am good at some technical skills like Advance Tally, Basic Excel Knowledge, and Email. I have been awarded for participating soft skill program "Groom to Grow" at Sanpada College of Commerce and Technology.

I also have one year and 4 months of professional experience that I gained by working as a Senior Customer Relationship Executive in the operations department at One Point One Solutions Limited.

I have spent day and night in searching for the university that suits me and found The Dresden University of Applied Sciences which provides a brilliant learning infrastructure that I can explore further. The experience and credibility of the teaching faculty here are immense and an opportunity to work under their mentorship shall expand my worldview and the future of the business landscape. I am confident that the master's program in Artificial Intelligence offered by this prestigious university will substantially leverages my knowledge in this field.

Germany is the ideal place for pursuing advanced education in Computer Science. As the country has been the petri dish in which the internet giants were developed, it will provide me with the best academic setting. By choosing to study in Germany, students are assuring themselves of a world-class education coupled with practical training at state-of-the-art universities across the country. A globally recognized degree after graduating from Germany would also lead to higher job prospects in the international marketplace. Germany also has a diverse cultural atmosphere that proves favorable for foreign education. Considering these reasons, I have concluded that Germany is the best choice for me.

This master's program will provide me an extensive knowledge in areas like Supply Chain Management, Risk Management, Financial Market, etc. Also, I will get an opportunity to enhance my personal skills. This master's program from Germany will also allow me to build a global network, which can open doors to more job opportunities and collaborations for me in the global job market.
