

Letter of Motivation

Introduction

My name is Varshini, Ramapuram Nayaki, and I am interested in pursuing a Master of Science in Supply Chain Management at SRH Berlin University of Applied Sciences. I am well versed in business administration with a strong academic background, hands-on business development experience, and my passion is supply chain management, and enjoy both learning and contributing to the field of logistics and operation globally.

Academic, Professional, Project, and Extra- Curricular

I earned my Bachelor of Business Administration (Honors) from Reva University in Bangalore, India with a cumulative grade point average of 8.07(German grade:2.1). In my Undergraduate degree program, I was exposed to various courses including Management Principles, Business Statistics, Human Resource Management and Macro Economics amongst others. Before my undergraduate education, I completed my Intermediate Public Examination (12th class) under the Board of Intermediate Education, Andhra Pradesh, scoring a CGPA of 7.84 (German grade equivalent: 2.0), and from secondary school, the Secondary School Certificate 10th class, Board of Secondary education Andhra Pradesh, GPA of 9.7 (equivalent to German grade: 1.1). I also took an internship position in the capacity of Business Development Intern at Mach IT Private Limited, Bengaluru. I assisted in a project called ‘A Study on the Idea of an EdTech Start-Up’ where I was required to research the market and draw strategies from the market trends and practices of the existing competitor companies in order to develop ideas for improving educational technology services. In my academic project at Reva University, I also prepared a detailed study on “Idea of an EdTech Start-Up” which highlighted the role of technology in the education-based learning process. On this project, I have been able to practice the research, analytical, and presentation skills in the course. Other special accomplishments include extra activities for which I have also participated in my learning process. While participating in Revthsava’23 I stood third in the “Best Entrepreneur” competition and second in the “Marketing Competition” which proves my leadership and strategic thinking abilities. I also contributed my efforts to some community service programs at Reva University. After that, I took IELTS and got 6.5 on average, which also proved my efficiency in the English language. Also, I Completed 15 years of Education in the English Language.

Why Master of Science in Supply Chain Management Program?

I am fascinated by the M.Sc. in Supply Chain Management at SRH Berlin as it takes a rounded approach to the understanding and managing of complex value chains and the use of analytics. The program's emphasis on logistics, supply management, and digital business processes specifically aligns with the path I want to walk as a person in global supply management. The course curriculum is a mix of technology and process-oriented knowledge that caters to furnish these skills needed for adapting to modern-day business problems, with modules on SCM 4.0, big data, and business intelligence. Particularly in today’s market, hands-on experience with ERP systems such as SAP, with certifications in Sales & Distribution (SD), Material Management (MM), and Production Planning (PP), is extremely valuable. I am excited to better my communication and leadership knowledge and build experience in global logistics and process management. It will also aid me in understanding and putting international law into use with supply chains before I take up management roles. Once I graduate I plan to occupy a position in supply chain management or logistics management and my gained knowledge will aid me in optimizing the operations and global efficiency of the business.

Why Germany?

Germany is famous for its world-class education system and research and innovation. The fact that its economy is robust, especially in manufacturing and logistics, makes it ideal to study supply chain management. My career objective of excelling in an extremely structured and organized work-oriented climate is in line with the country’s global reputation for excellence in engineering and efficiency. I am also interested in generating environmentally sound supply chain solutions and with my interest in Germany’s commitment to sustainability and green logistics. In terms of networking with professionals from the biggest global companies headquartered in Germany, is a huge opportunity that is invaluable for my future career. I will also be studying in a multicultural environment in Germany, which will also inculcate a global perspective that is very important, especially in this day I am living where the world has become very interconnected with business. Education is affordable in Germany, and there are lots of scholarships which make Germany a good place for international students to be studying.

Why SRH Berlin?

In particular, I am impressed by the hands-on learning they take at SRH Berlin University of Applied Sciences and the strong ties that they have with other industry leaders. Real-world projects and case studies at the university are also emphasized and the students are not only acquiring theoretical knowledge, but practical as well. The multicultural international student body within SRH Berlin will help me to work with students from a variety of cultural and professional backgrounds which would help my learning experience tremendously. The university’s very close association with companies in the logistics and supply chain sectors will facilitate the development of a professional network which is extremely important for personal and professional growth. Also, SRH Berlin’s cutting-edge facilities and its position in one of Europe’s most dynamic business centers provide the perfect setting to learn and see what is going on in the industry at the moment. Having the faculty at SRH Berlin provide personalized support and guidance only strengthens my decision to take my master’s degree here.

Conclusion

All in all, I feel sure that the Master of Science in Supply Chain Management at SRH Berlin will provide me with the proper academic rigor and practical skills required to succeed in my pursuit of a career. I am looking forward to contributing to and growing within the university’s academic vibrant community.

Thank you for considering my application. I eagerly await the possibility of joining SRH Berlin and furthering my education in supply chain management.

Yours sincerely,

Varshini, Ramapuram Nayaki