

Motivation Letter

From India, I go by Deepak Chittemakki Vijendra. My academic profile and aspirations have been much affected by my passion with supply chain management. The complexity of logistics and the flawless supply chain management have captivated me from a small age. Applying to Constructor University for the Master's in Supply Chain Management excites me. Strongly believing in myself, I have a clear vision for my future and am sure this program will fulfill my academic needs.

Currently enrolled in Visvesvaraya Technological University, Belagavi, Karnataka, India, I am working on a Bachelor of Engineering in Mechanical Engineering. Up to the sixth semester, I kept a CGPA of 7.43, which is German equal of 2.2. Among the disciplines in my classes have been Basic Electronics, Elements of Mechanical Engineering, Fluid Mechanics and Hydraulic Machines, Engineering Thermodynamics, and Innovation and Design Thinking. With a score of 86.08%, corresponding to a German grade of 1.6, I passed my Secondary School Leaving Certificate Examination (Class 10th); with a score of 74.5%, comparable to a German grade of 2.1, I passed my Pre-University Examination (Class 12th).

Along with this, I interned in "HVAC Design" with Princeton Smart Engineers and scored a Grade "A." This internship gave me real-world HVAC system knowledge and experience, which stoked my passion in manufacturing technology even more. To further my knowledge in world logistics and supply chain management, I also finished a course in Logistics Management: International Transport & Shipping from Udemy.

Supply chain management appeals to me since it so nicely mixes my love of logistics with my academic background. One turning point that piqued my curiosity was during my internship, assigned to streamline HVAC component supply chains. This encounter helped me to see how crucial effective supply networks are to the survival of companies. My classes in Innovation and Design Thinking have also piqued my interest about how supply chain tactics may inspire creativity in other sectors. Particularly intriguing to me are Constructor University's "Supply Chain Strategy," "Global Logistics," and "Sustainable Supply Chain Management" courses. These classes will equip me with the information and abilities required to enhance supply chain driving efficiency and decision-making quality.

Constructor University's exceptional reputation and academic quality had drawn me in wanting to study there. The university's great performance on several worldwide rankings tells volumes about its caliber of instruction. Constructor University offers a first-rate studying atmosphere with its varied student body and modern facilities. The research centers and the seasoned faculty members—who are authorities in their domains—draw me especially in. Another important consideration is the university's location; it is in a city with lots of attractions and a robust supply chain experts' employment market. Attaching Constructor University will provide me academic, personal, and professional advantages including access to modern research, cultural diversity, and outstanding employment possibilities.

Germany's first-rate educational system and chance to be exposed to numerous cultures appeal to me as reasons for studying here. I want to remain in Germany since the field of education there is much better. Studying in Germany will expose me to creative research and pragmatic knowledge, so helping me to develop both personally and professionally. My own ideals and goals are in line with the German one of accuracy, efficiency, and creativity. The chance to fully engage oneself in this culture and learn from some of the greatest brains in the industry excites me.

Following my master's degree, I wish to work in positions include operations manager, logistically manager, or supply chain analyst. I want to work since supply chain experts are much sought for there. The Master's program will equip me with knowledge and abilities ready for these positions and enable me to support the growth of companies. The idea of leading operational innovation and having a significant influence in the field of Supply Chain Management excites me.

Ultimately, I am sure Constructor University's Master of Supply Chain Management degree is exactly what I should be doing. My love of logistics, professional experience, and academic background qualify me as a perfect applicant. The chance to learn from the finest and help Supply Chain Management advances excites me. I value your giving my application some thought.

Sincerely,
Deepak Chittemakki Vijendra
